

Seeking Applications for: Director – School of Behavioral & Social Sciences

The College of Business and Social Sciences at the University of Louisiana Monroe is currently seeking applications for Director of its School of Behavioral & Social Sciences (SBSS).

The SBSS Director will provide leadership for the effective and efficient operations of the School and serves as an integral part of the leadership team for the ULM College of Business and Social Sciences. The SBSS is home to four programs of study (Criminal Justice, Political Science, Psychology and Social Work) with nearly 900 undergraduate students. The SBSS is also home to five graduate programs of study including Master of Public Administration, Master of Science in Psychology, Master of Arts in Criminal Justice, and Master of Gerontology, and a Graduate Certificate in Senior Health Care Management.

The responsibilities of the SBSS Director include

- Provide vision and strategic planning and implementation for the SBSS
- Oversee and assist with curricula, accreditation, and assessment of its programs
- Develop short and long term schedules and rotations to ensure student academic progress is viable and to provide for an equitable and fair faculty workload
- Recruit, develop and mentor faculty and faculty relationships
- Oversee and participate in faculty evaluation and faculty promotion and tenure processes
- Perform/oversee administrative activities associated with the students, faculty, and staff of the SBSS

To apply, visit <https://www.schooljobs.com/careers/ulm/jobs/3239550/director-school-of-behavioral-and-social-sciences?page=2&pagetype=jobOpportunitiesJobs>.

For more information, visit ulm.edu/hr or contact Dean Michelle McEacharn at mceacharn@ulm.edu or Search Committee Chair Arturo Rodriguez at rodriguez@ulm.edu.

General Description of Monroe, ULM and the CBSS

University of Louisiana Monroe is located on the beautiful banks of Bayou Desiard in the northeast corner of the state. The city of Monroe is the economic and healthcare hub of the region, is known as the birthplace of Delta Airlines and home to the corporate headquarters of Lumen (formerly CenturyLink), and is conveniently located 177 miles from Little Rock, Arkansas, 283 miles from New Orleans, Louisiana, 284 miles from Dallas, Texas and 325 miles from Memphis, Tennessee.

The College of Business and Social Sciences serves approximately 2300 students and offers 17 undergraduate and 5 graduate degree programs. The CBSS has a proud tradition of teaching excellence and seeks to offer a student-centered learning environment that produces high-quality graduates and engages in practical research and service that benefits students, business and the community. The College represents a collegial working environment where all members are working together for the good of students so that we may change lives.